DE REMER SCHOOL

After consulting all the old timers, and tracing all available records, the earliest history of the school district began in the year 1866, when on September 21, the district held its annual meeting.

There is no definite record as to the date of the erection of the first school house used, but according to reports it was a frame structure, 16 x 20 feet, with twelve inch boards with batten coverings.

In 1866, Wm. Raney was director, Richard Fletcher, clerk, and Lorenzo DeRemer, treasurer. Eight cords of wood, 22" lengths were bought at that time at $2.10 per cord. There were only seven months of school held in 1866. They raised $200 school tax.

In the year 1868, Richard Fletcher was clerk, Lorenzo DeRemer, treasurer, and Thomas Hamlet, director.

In the year 1869, John Near was clerk, Thomas Hamlet, director, and Lorenzo DeRemer, treasurer. $145 was raised for school taxes that year.

In 1870, it was decided that a second grade teacher be employed. The clerk was instructed to hire Miss Fannie Haynes. Because the motion was out of order, the clerk refused to accept the motion. A discussion on building a new school followed, and the meeting broke up in confusion.

There is no record of a meeting in 1871. In 1872 they decided to build a new school house, 24' x 30', and to raise $500. The old building was sold in the year 1872 to the highest bidder at a cost of $59. This building is still standing on part of a farm dwelling about one-half mile south of the site of the present DeRemer school house. The contract price of the new school house was $218. The material was furnished by the district. Brick was $68.50, lumber $203, lime $19.20, windows, nails, and doors, $57.83, moldings $13.80, paint and oil $21.17, stone for foundation $20, sand $4.75, team work $10.41, carpenters, masons and painters $234, seats and desks $140, miscellaneous things, $18, chair for teacher $2.25; Total--$943.60.

In 1873 they raised $200 school tax, and $500 for paying the debt on the school house.

In 1874, the clerk's salary was fixed at $2.50 per year.

In 1875, Tobias Jacobson was clerk, Wm. Raney director, and Matt Armour, treasurer. Mrs. Ida Waldron, 91 years of age, is the oldest living pupil of DeRemer School. She lives with her daughter in North Cape. Mr. Matt Armour was her father. Mrs. Waldron started school in 1876 and her first teacher was Mina Raney. Mrs. Waldron tells us that school started at 9 A. M. with all the children marching into the classroom. After roll call, a short verse from the Bible was read and songs from Gospel Hymns were sung. Her classmates were from the Peter Jones, John Jones, Sadler, Gatfields, Raney, and De Remer families.

It was decided to buy a new stove in 1876 and to buy two rods of land,--one rod on the south and one rod on the west side of the schoolhouse. It was purchased for $12. They also decided to build a new board fence on the south and west sides of the school yard.

In 1880 shade trees were planted around the school.

In 1886 $10 was raised to pay John Neare for pumps and water for the school.

During a spring storm in 1889, the school house was struck by lightning, shattering the chimney, tearing all the plaster from the ceiling, breaking one leg off the old box stove, smashing some of the seats, and making two holes in the floor near the stove about three feet in diameter.

During the term of 1887-1888, Lorenzo De Remer hauled the lumber and built the woodshed, all for $50.89.

In the fall of 1898, Ernie De Remer erected a fine wooden flag pole, about 60' high, one of the finest in the county at that time; at a cost of $17.37.

On February 24, 1908, a "Manual Smith" heater was installed, and the old box stove was thrown out. This was the same heater that was in use at the time of the fire on May 11, 1931.

In August, 1913, new single seats were installed and the old ones were sold to residents for 50 cents apiece. The new seats and teacher's desk cost $97.

It was voted to build a porch and to buy a bell and belfry in 1915. The cost did not exceed $60.

The P. T. A. organization was founded in the year 1924 with an attendance of 20.

A piano was purchased in the year 1926 to supplant the organ which was donated by Miss Elsie Hagen in 1924.

An acre of land was bought in 1927 and added to the school grounds. The following year, $15 was spent for shrubbery. In 1926 a Mitchell Swing Around was purchased for $175.

On May 11, 1931 at 11 o'clock at night, fire alarms sounded, the De Remer School was ablaze. Nothing was saved; it was a total loss. Cause of fire was undetermined. The children were transported for the remainder of the school year to the Raymond Town Hall by John Paap. Many of us can remember the experiences we had going to the hall while riding in the back of Mr. Paap's farm truck.

Many meetings, tours to other new schools, trips to Madison, etc., by Otto Paap, Sr., George Sadler, and Jacob Steffenson and others followed before a contractor was hired and plans accepted for a new school.

In the fall of 1931 the present De Remer School was built and dedicated. Classes started later than usual, but the new school was done and was one of the finest in the county. The contractor was Edmund Hoganson, of Waterford; heating contractor was Severin Johnson of Racine. The total cost of the new building was $9,470. This included books, $341.37; well, $405.50; furnace, $364.67; equipment, $581.35; P. T. A. piano, $50. The building committee was Julius Jacobson, Ben Boettcher, Mrs. Grant Christense, and Mrs. Charles Bensene.

In the years that followed many families moved in and out of the district. In about 1945-46 a discussion arose over the closing of the De Remer School. A meeting was held with 23 people present--12 were in favor of keeping the school open and 11 were in favor of closing it. Attendance increased yearly, and in the year 1960 at the July annual meeting it was decided that De Remer would consolidate with Raymond Center and East Cape Schools.

It is very interesting to note that Mr. Otto Paap, Sr., Mr. George Sadler, and Mr. Jacob Steffenson served the De Remer school board as director, clerk, and treasurer respectfully for twenty-five years.

There are two four-generation families from the district with a pupil from the family attending school at the present time. They are Mrs. James Christensen, Mr. Grant Christensen, Mrs. Nancy Jung, and Timothy Jung; also, Mr. Quincy Scott, Mr. John C. Scott, Mr. Howard Scott, and Bruce and Bryon Scott. There are three three-generation families. They are Mr. George Sadler, Mr. William Sadler, and Renee and Coralie Sadler; Mr. George Sadler, Mr. Allen Sadler, and Mark Sadler; Also Mrs. Charles (Elsa) Besene, Mr. Kenneth Bensene, and Linda Bensene.

East Cape School

The East Cape School District Number 8 was formed in the year 1866 on the first day of October; however, there are no records to show that school was conducted until 1867. The first official district meeting of which there is any record was held on November 7, 1867 at 7 P. M. Mr. H. L. Gilmore was chosen chairman of the meeting and Oscar Balsley pro-tem clerk. It was voted to raise $310 for school purposes; that there should be eight months of school,--four months winter term and four months summer term. They voted to purchase eight cords of wood at $3 per cord and ten dollars was to be paid for lighting the fire.

It is very interesting to note that the first teacher hired in 1867, Miss Desdemonia Scott, is a great aunt to one of the present board members of the consolidated school, Mr. Howard Scott. She received $112 for her first term of teaching. The first school board consisted of James Roberts, clerk, S. D. Scofield, director, and H. L. Gilmore, treasurer. The enrollment for the first term was 23 pupils ranging in age from 6 to 14 years.

On May 30, 1868 a special meeting was held to consider building a school house. It was voted to build a school by a majority of those present. The building was to be of brick, 20' x 26'. The walls were to be 12 feet high from the underpinning. At an adjourned meeting held on June 6, 1868 it was voted to reconsider the size of the building, and it was amended to be built 22' x 28'. There is no place in the minutes to show that it was changed from brick to wood; however, it was built of wood at a cost of $800.

In the year 1867, $311.18 was collected in district taxes, $28.39 county taxes, and $46.89 state and dog tax.

In 1870 at the annual meeting it was voted to buy ten cords or 640' dry, sound oak wood, cut in two foot lengths, to be delivered in good shape for measuring. William Vyvyan was low bidder at $2.37½ per cord. From all indications of the meetings the biggest arguments were raised over how much they were to pay for the cord wood and whether or not they should have a male or female teacher.

At the annual meeting in 1880 it was voted to lay a new floor and install six new seats. At the annual meeting on July 1, 1889 it was voted to make a dug well on the school grounds. The well was completed on August 3, 1889 at the cost of $93.

In 1892 an addition was built on consisting of an outer room or closets and hall ways. It was built at the west end of the present room. The room was to be six feet wide and same height as the original school. It was completed on August 24, 1892 at a cost of $89.

In 1894 it was voted to dig another well as the present one was no longer any good. It was agreed that it should be stoned up. The well was to be 30' deep and 7' wide. It cost $45.

Miss Sophia Fredrickson, now Mrs. Martin Christensen, was hired for the winter term in 1902. She is the oldest, living teacher of the East Cape District. She taught for several terms at different intervals.

In checking the enrollments the most children enrolled was in 1884 when there were 59 children. Of these 35 were boys and 24 were girls. They ranged in age from 5 years to 18 years.

In 1910, it was voted to purchase a bell. In reviewing the minutes of previous years, this was an item that had been recommended but had always been voted down. On September 8, 1910 the belfrey was completed at a cost of $25. The bell was installed at a cost of $14.66.

In August 1913, Mr. A. B. Drought drilled a well for $185. This well was used until 1930 when the water was considered unsafe. After much discussion it was decided to accept an offer from Mr. A. W. Sorenson to pipe the water from his farm at a cost to the district of $15 a year. Later the cost was increased to $50 a year.

In 1929 a great advancement was made at the school. Modern electrical lighting was installed. The light fixtures cost $30.44. The Waterford Electric Company was awarded the contract to wire the school at the cost of $39.25.

In December of 1933 two different adjourned meetings were held on the subject of whether to accept or reject the Civil Works Administration proposal as to remodeling and repairing the school. It was finally voted to accept the proposal and work was begun that spring.

At the annual meeting in 1937, it was voted to install a new furnace and stoker. It was installed by the A. B. Heating Company at a cost of $755.

In 1947 after many years of rejection, indoor plumbing was installed.

The school board members at the time of consolidation plans with Raymond Center and De Remer Schools were Mr. Robert Strelow, Mr. Henry Carp, and Mr. Arthur Jacobson.

There are two four generation families from the district with a pupil from that family attending school at the present time. They are Mrs. Mary Hansen; Mrs. Emma Jacobson, Arthur Jacobson and Lois Jacobson; also, Mrs. Mary Hansen, Mrs. Carrie Hansen, Harry Hansen and David Hansen. There have been many families who have had three and four generations graduated from the original school.

RAYMOND CENTER SCHOOL

The town and school of Raymond were named for Raymond's first white settler, Elisha Raymond, Sr., who with his son, Alvin, settled on a branch of Root River in the year 1835. The following summer he built a two-story log house complete with a two-story stone chimney. No doubt many a land and homeseeker, in the wilderness of that day, found much comfort in the enjoyment of Mr. Raymond's backwoods hospitality.

Like the early settlers in other parts of the county, those of Raymond were subjected to dangers and inconveniences. Food, among other things, was hard to find. Some brought food with them. One time Mr. Raymond went south and brought into the settlement thirty head of cattle and fifteen hogs. In 1841 Mr. Raymond raised 3,000 bushels of grain on 100 acres of cleared land.

The Indians were troublesome and on one occasion, Alvin Raymond fell asleep in the field where he had been cutting grass, his rifle by his side. He was suddenly awakened. Standing before him were thirteen or so ponies, two or three Indians astride each. All they wanted to know was if he had a squaw and wigwam.

The town of Raymond was first called "Black Hawk", by an act of the legislature in 1846, but at the same session an act was passed re-organizing the town and giving it the name of Raymond, for the pioneer who had so sturdily established and maintained his settlement in the town.

Elisha Raymond died in 1851.

There are no records as to when the first school was built, but the first recorded teacher was Miss Mary Hyde, in 1868. That year $287.85 was allotted for the school expenses. Of this amount, $210 was paid the teacher, Miss Hyde, and there was a balance of $30.36 at the end of the year.

The first recorded clerk was William Hunter who served from 1868 to 1880.

The school burned down in the summer of 1889 and was rebuilt the same fall at a cost of $899.21. Henry Hunter was paid $130 for labor, the lumber cost $318.76, the chimney cost $5 and the paint cost $20. To top it all off, a new stove and pipe cost $10.40 plus 50¢ for help to put it up.

In 1905 the school switched from burning wood to coal. Four tons of coal was burned that year at a cost of $29.60.

Charles Patterson built the belfry in 1914. The pupils of the school held a basket social to pay for the bell, and it called the children to class until 1934. In 1934 the bell was removed in favor of an electric one. It was sold for $4.60. The bell was then shipped to a mission in Tanganyika, Africa and is still in use today.

A well was drilled in 1926 and in 1927 the school was wired for electric lights.

The school building was remodeled in 1934 under the Civil Works Administration. A basement and plumbing were added. A re-dedication program was held on January 11, 1935.

In 1937 the back entrance as it is today was built by Charles Patterson and a strip of land east of the school yard was purchased from George Kime for $50.

Five acres of land across from the school, "the old Kearney woods", was purchased by the district in 1957 as a possible future building site.

As the records are not complete, not much is known of the early enrollments; but the oldest living pupil is Miss Annie Anderson of Racine. Mrs. Lettie Dawson Brown, who graduated in 1890 and still has her diploma, is the second oldest living pupil. Mrs. Brown is of Racine, also.

Mr. Charles Jacobson, now of the Danish Old People's Home in Racine, is the oldest living school board member. He served from 1918 to 1920. The last board members of our one-room school were Tom Gunderson, Walter Hansen, and Elsie Klockner.

Our oldest living teacher is Mrs. James Christensen who taught as Miss Annie S. Anderson in 1897.

There are three four generation families from the district with pupils from that family attending school at the present time. They are James Dawson, Virgil Dawson, Dale Dawson, and James Dawson; also, James Dawson, Virgil Dawson, Mrs. Margaret Osmundsen, and David Osmundsen. Mrs. Carrie Kime, Mrs. Mildred Paap, Mrs. Georgia Hansen, and Rae Alice Hansen; also Mrs. Carrie Kime, Mrs. Mildred Paap, Mrs. Jackie Becker and Susan Becker. Bruce Hunter, Mrs. Gladys Rieckhoff, George Rieckhoff, Jr. and Lynn and Debra Rieckhoff.

RAYMOND SCHOOL

During the year of 1957 a group of interested individuals formed a voluntary committee for the purpose of studying the problem of over-crowded schoolrooms and possible solutions thereof. After a year of preliminary work, the committee decided that a study committee selected by the districts themselves with definite responsibilities should be formed. At the 1959 annual school meetings, each district selected two delegates to act in this capacity. This committee was organized under the chairmanship of Mr. Glenn Wilkins. After a year's study, it was decided that due to existing high school boundary lines, it would be impractical to consolidate at this time on a township basis. Therefore, De Renner, East Cape, and Raymond Center, lying completely within the Waterford High School boundary lines, decided to attempt consolidation with these three schools. Subsequently, a petition was filed with the County School Committee to affect such consolidation. After separate meetings in each district, the three districts met in a special meeting on April 8, 1960. Due to a majority of opinion in favor of this action, the County Committee issued an order affecting this action effective July 15, 1960.

The first annual meeting of the newly formed District #12 was held in the Town Hall on July 25, 1960. A school board was elected consisting of Walter Hansen, Virgil Hogue, Howard Scott, Robert Strelow, and Arthur Jacobson. The new board in turn selected a building committee. Those selected were Jerry Bissonnette, Joe Englehardt, Rudy Hungler, Warren Nelson and Richard Hebron.

A recessed annual meeting was held September 19, 1960. Upon the recommendation of the building committee, the district selected a site for the new school building. A transaction with the Town of Raymond to purchase ten acres of land near the intersection of Five Mile Road and 76th Street was completed in the month of December, 1960, at a cost of $5,000.

A second recessed annual meeting was held November 1, 1960. Von Grossman Associates were selected as architects for the building project. The district authorized the board to borrow necessary funds and proceed with the new building. Bids for construction were opened March 2, 1961. Salvano Bros., Inc. of Racine were awarded the contract for construction at a cost of $106,000.

Initial construction work was begun April 15, 1961. The building was sufficiently completed so that the first school sessions were held on September 4, 1961.

The building consists of six classrooms, principal's office and teachers' lounge, storage room, utility rooms, and a 40 by 60 foot gymnasium. This totals approximately 9,000 square feet of floor space. As the work proceeded additional facilities were incorporated into the building. Cooperation between the school board, architect, and contractor, however, resulted in a reduction of actual cost below that listed in the original contract.

Our new school has an enrollment of 99 pupils. Thirty are in grades 1-2 with Mrs. Lora Longhons as teacher; twenty-seven in grades 3-4 with Mrs. Grace Sorenson; twenty-six in grades 5-6 with Mrs. Adeline Comello who also is the principal of our school; and sixteen in grades 7-8 with Mr. Phonzie Philbrick. Mr. William Sorenson is our custodian.
